District Lakes To Be Planted With Trout

Project Pushed by Fish & Game Assn.

After years of concentrated effort on the part of a handful of men, Raymond and district sportsmen are about to reap full benefit. By this fall, if conditions are right, anyone with a couple of hours to spare and a yen for fried trout will be able to fulfill their desire at any of two or three lakes less than ten miles from town.

According to the local Fish and Game Association, Lund Reservoir, seven miles south of town is to be stocked immediately with good stock of rainbow trout. Ridge Reservoir is also to be stocked as soon as water temperature permits.

From a survey during the past two years of lakes which have been stocked and are now being fished, it has been noted that every day, each of these fishing spots are Meccas for from 50 to 150 car loads of sportsmen.

It can be seen that such an influx of visitors would be a boon to any town. Most of these people require some service or other: lunches, pop, gasoline, fishing gear, etc. which they will buy at a convenient spot.

Raymond, then is soon to be one of the favored towns and it would be worth everyone's while to get behind the Raymond Fish and Game Association in an effort to make their future plans bear some ripe fruit.

The next item on their long range planning sheet, is the setting aside of a suitable area around one of these lakes as a park, either Federal or Provincial. It's to be noted that several such areas are in operation to date; such as at Grassy Lake, Park Lake and so on.

Such a park would be of great advantage to Raymond residents and business men.

The Raymond Fish and Game Assn. wish respectfully to point out that the membership fees are purely nominal, only $1.50, and the size of the membership role has a great effect on government concessions. If you think these projects are worthy to be carried out, and wish to have a hand in their fruition, please contact one of the executive of the F. and G. Assn., and add your name to the membership list. President George Turner, Frank Hall, Joe Lininski, Ron Watson, Chuck Watson, Stones Service Store and many others, will be glad to explain the many advantages of membership and help you to join the growing band of "Issak Waltons" in the district.

For Propagation, Protection, Conservation, join the Raymond Fish and Game Association.

Too barren is the earth for words
If gone are all the fish and birds,
Fancy an age that sees no more
The mallards winging in to shore;
Fancy youth with all its dreams
That finds no fish within its streams.

Our world with life is wondrous fair;
God grant we do not strip it bare!
—Edgar A. Guest

Congratulations to

DR. GORDON ANDERSON

DOCTOR OF DENTAL SURGERY

upon your decision to locate in Raymond

The people of Raymond and District are happy that Dr. Anderson has decided to remain in our Town. He is currently opening his new office on the ground floor of the Broadway Bldg. — north entrance.

We were quite disturbed over the prospect of losing Dr. Anderson to some other Town, as it is not every day that a small community acquires a man of his training and qualities. Gordon graduated from the University of Alberta with a D.D.S. degree and then spent a year training at the Forsyth Dental Infirmary at Boston, Mass., specializing in Children's Dentistry.

He is also active in Community affairs and has been particularly valuable in the guidance of our young people.

We hope the people of Raymond and District will merit the confidence that Dr. Anderson has shown in his decision to stay in Raymond and we say to him

"Congratulations and Best Wishes for Success"

"Please pass the potatoes"—is a request heard hundreds of times a year in most homes throughout the nation. And so it should be—for potatoes are one of our most plentiful foods and they are easy on the budget too. Instead of serving them always plain boiled, fried or baked why not dress them up a little now and then in one of the following ways suggested by the Consumer section? Most of the fancy names have been donated by the French who seem to have a particular talent for changing plain foods into something delectable with little or no effort.

Anna — very thinly sliced potatoes baked with butter in a mould.

Annette — cooked the same as Anna, with chopped onions and grated cheese added.

Au Four — baked potatoes with a flavouring of bacon fat and cheese.

Au Gratin — creamed diced potatoes sprinkled with grated nippy cheese and buttered bread crumbs, then baked in the oven.

Duchess — dry mashed potatoes mixed with yolk of egg, a little butter and seasoning, and formed into fancy shapes, brushed with beaten egg and baked.

Fraconia — whole potatoes parboiled then baked with a roast and basted frequently with the fat in the pan.

Julienne — potatoes cut into match-like strips and cooked as French fried potatoes.

Lyonnaise — sliced or diced boiled potatoes sauteed with sliced onion and garnished with chopped parsley.

Maitre d'Hotel — boiled potato balls served with a sauce of butter, minced onion, chopped parsley, salt, pepper and a little lemon juice.

Mousseline — mashed potatoes mixed with whipped cream and butter.

Parmentier — diced potatoes cooked in a casserole with butter and parsley.

Rissolo — hot mashed potatoes fried in deep fat until golden brown, then salted.

Souffle — hot mashed potatoes mixed with beaten egg yolks, seasonings and fluffy egg white, then baked in a hot oven.

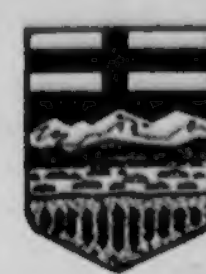

Potato Secrets

6 large potatoes well scrubbed
1 cup ground cooked meat
1 cup gravy or cream sauce
1/2 teaspoon onion juice
Salt and pepper to taste.
1/2 cup cooked carrots, finely chopped

Bake potatoes in a moderately hot oven, 375° F., until tender, about 1 hour. Mix meat, gravy, seasonings and carrots. Cut a slice from the broad side of each potato. Scoop out the potato, leaving unbroken shells. Mash potato, add salt and pepper and a little top milk. Whip until fluffy. Half fill shells with meat mixture. Pile potatoes on top. Reheat in oven until potatoes are lightly browned and filling is hot. Yield: six servings.

A special "best of show" award of $25. is a new incentive in the quilt division of the Canadian National Exhibition Women's Prize List. Always one of the most popular classes in the Home Craft section, this year's quilt division includes classes in the patchwork design as well as a special class for a nursery design. Classes are open to individuals or organizations.

For women whose talents lean more towards knitting than quilting, there is another appealing award. The Wool Bureau offers a special $100. prize to the "best class" made all of wool. As well as this added inducement, there are dozens of lesser prizes in a dozen or more classes in the knitting section of the new Women's 1956 Prize Book.

Interesting classes are open to men and women of all ages, including wood-working, leather work, weaving and wire sculpture, to mention only a few.

Another grand prize is offered by the International Silver Company in the precious metal class. Gold and silver are the metals and everything from jewellery to complete tea and coffee services are included in these classes and the best entry receives a $100. award.

Some three million visitors attended the C. N. E. annually, most of whom make a trip to the Women's Division to see the beautiful prize winning pieces. This year, with prize money higher than ever, the Exhibition expects that the entries will be really magnificent.

If you would like to enter in the special C. N. E. competitions, all you have to do is to write to: Women's Division, Canadian National Exhibition, Exhibition Park, Toronto, Ont. and ask for this year's Prize Book, which will be forwarded to you immediately, free of charge.
